[BRAND GUIDELINES]

PRODUCED BY ANDRÉ BROWN LABORATORIES®

THESE ARE THE PODIUM BRAND IDENTITY GUIDELINES.

They set out who we are and how we look to our community, collaborators and clients.

It's a practical guide to help ensure visual communications are developed consistently and cohesively.

This document is a guide — a selection of recommendations and visual cues — not a rulebook carved in stone. So refer to it as inspiration and guidance to steer design decisions rather than as an official brand bible.

PODIUM GLOBAL IS NOT JUST A STUDIO — IT'S A TERRAIN FOR CREATION, DISCIPLINE, AND TRANSFORMATION.

Podium operates at the evolving edge of sport, performance, and human nature. We explore how physicality, identity, and environment collide — how movement becomes meaning, and how design can capture what it feels like to push limits.

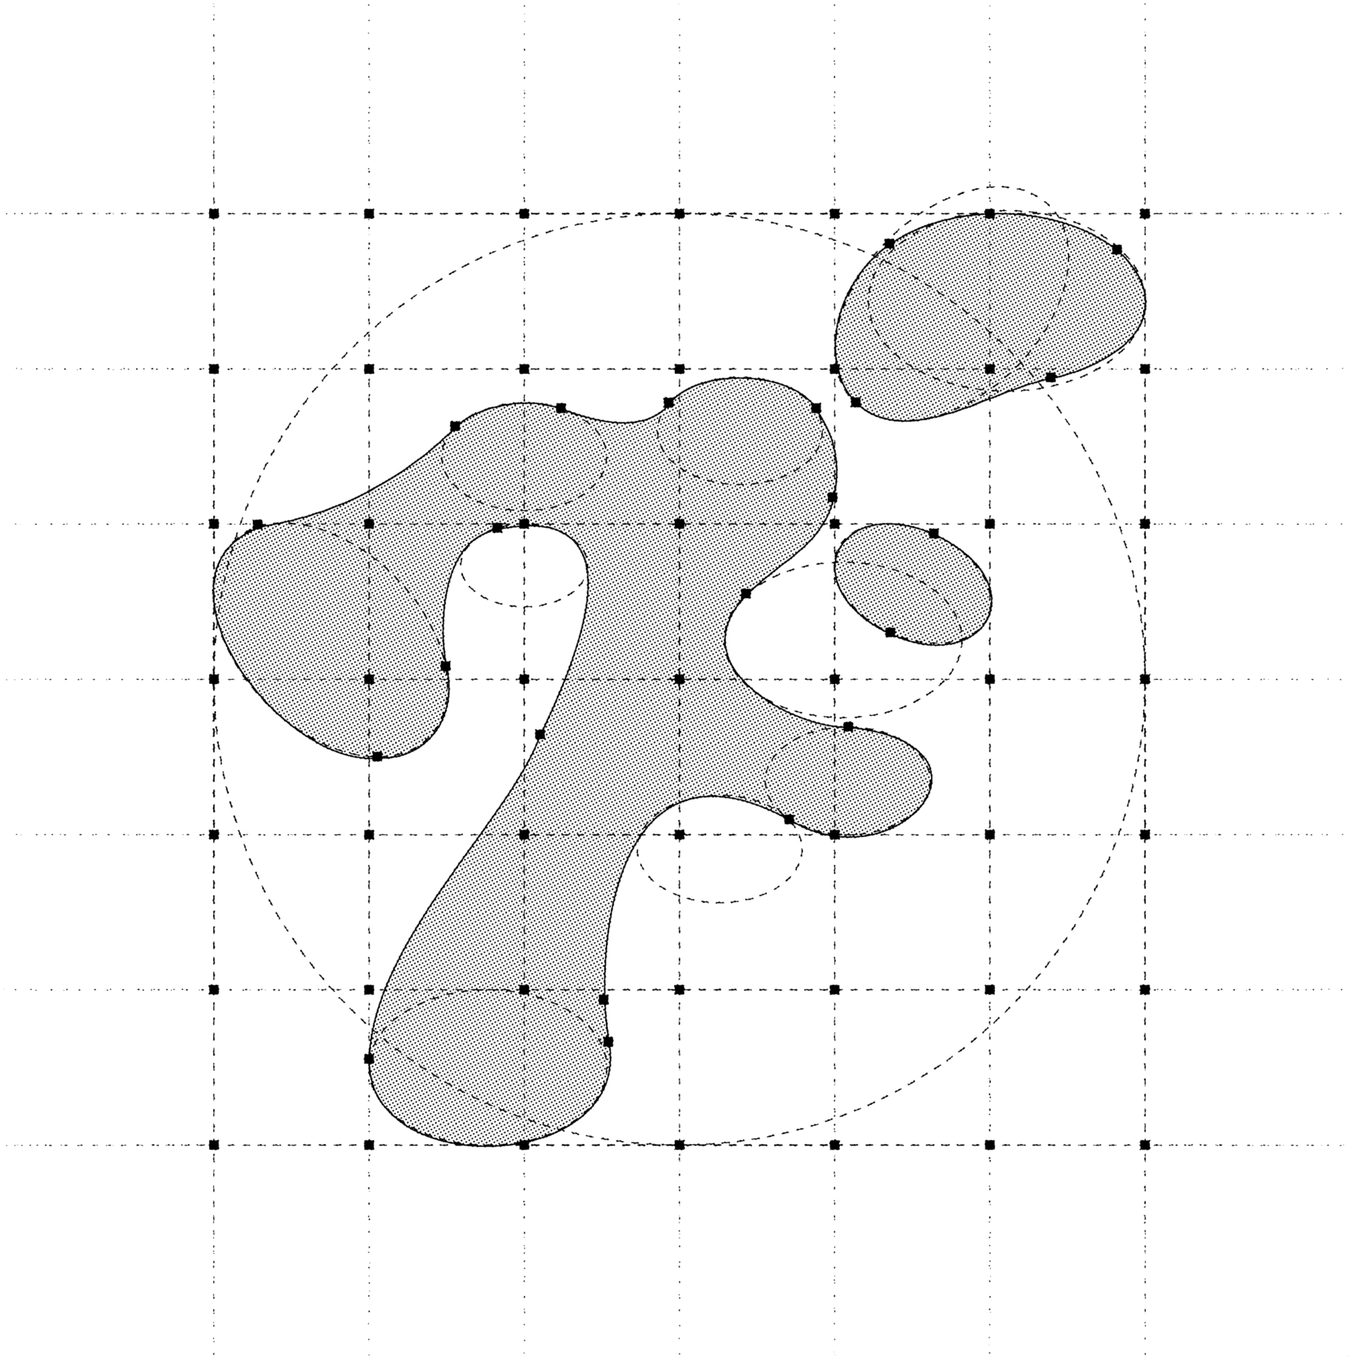

We work internationally with athletes, brands, and cultural thinkers to build stories that live across media: from visual identities to spatial installations, from moving image to printed matter. At our core is a belief that sport is more than competition — it's ritual, language, and instinct. It's a system we can stretch, break, and rebuild.

Podium is where structure meets spontaneity, where the grid breaks into gesture. We design with sweat, focus, failure, and flow. We embrace the friction between control and chaos, between technology and terrain. Whether branding a global campaign or crafting a single emblem, we're chasing the same thing: a visual language that moves.

[04] CONCLUSION

©2025 PODIUM GLOBAL RIGHTS RESERVED

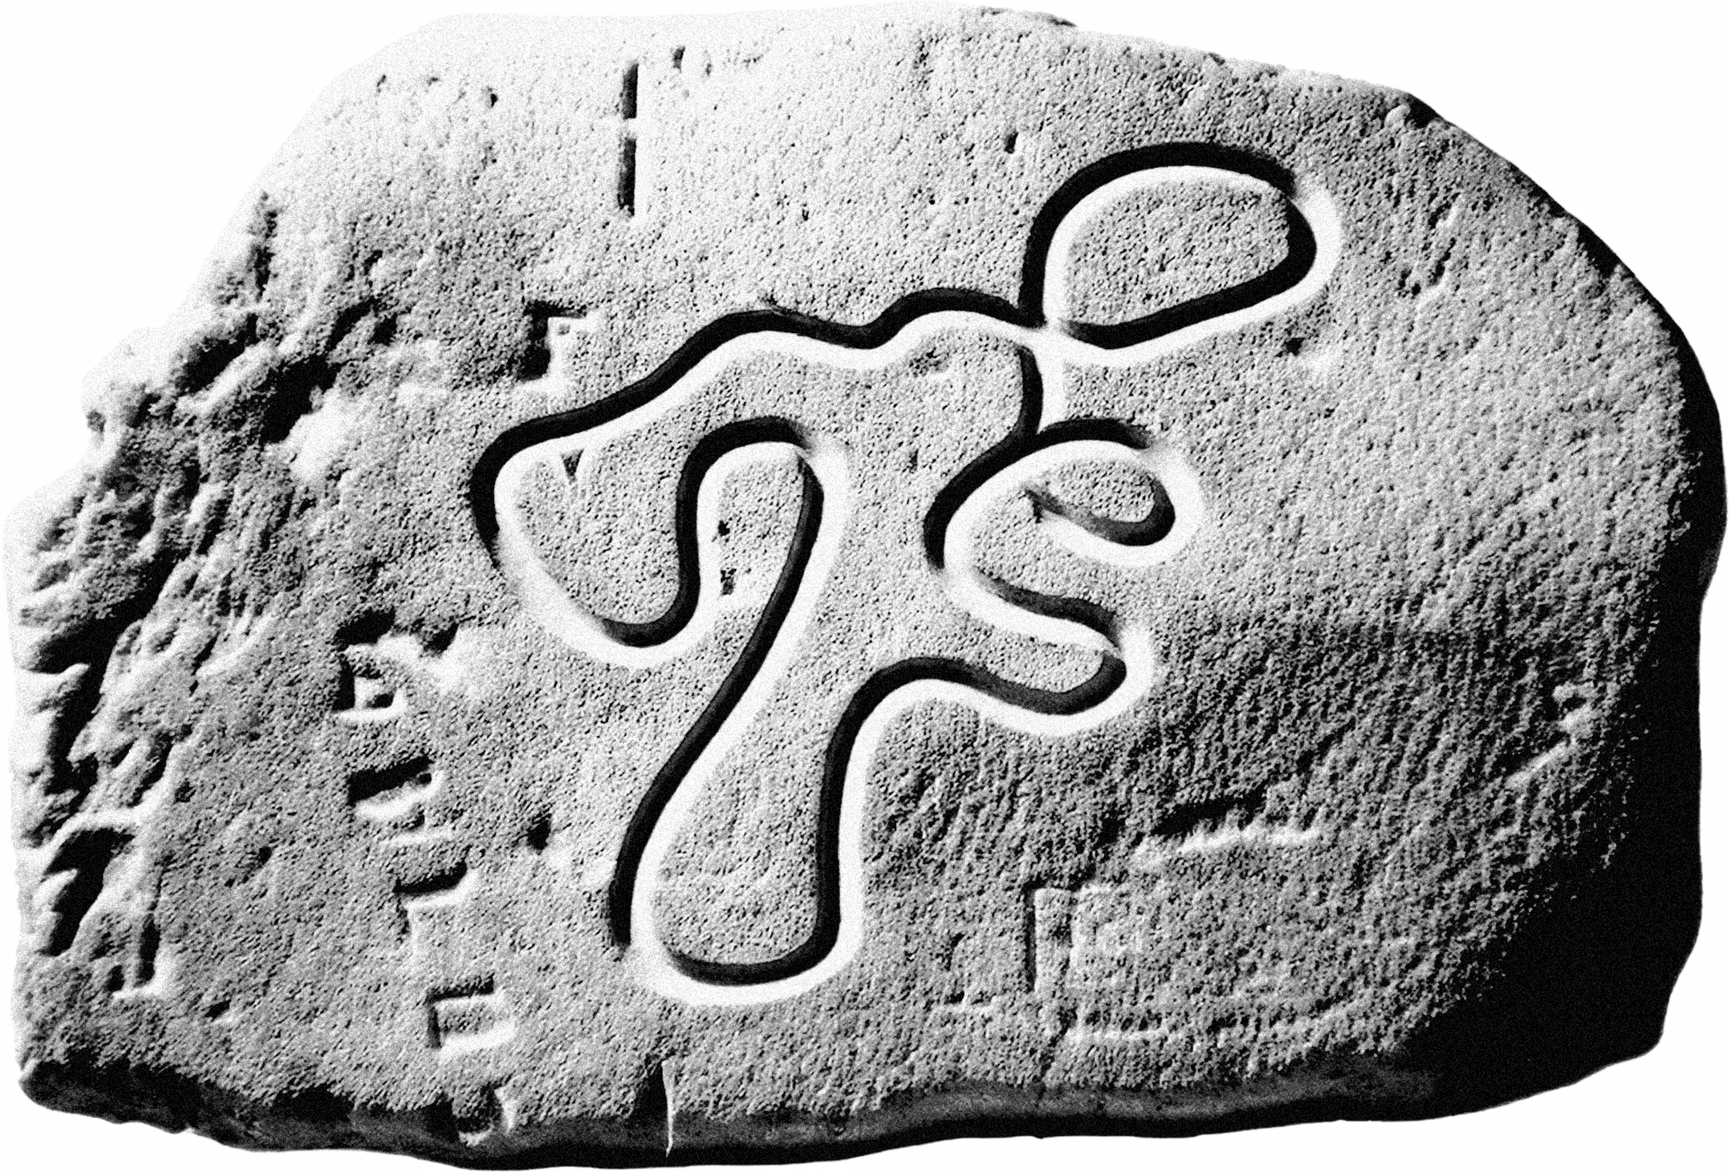

The icon draws inspiration from the intersection of nature's language, movement, patterns, and textures, and the rigidity and logic of modern technologies.

The final product pays homage to the powerful balance and dynamics between Man and Nature, and offers a fresh take on grid systems and industrial aesthetics.

©2025 PODIUM GLOBAL RIGHTS RESERVED

The icon can be used in a wide range of ways and works best when integrated seamlessly into natural objects and landscapes.

There is no right or wrong way to use the icon as the intention behind its utility is to experiment with representation and style to evoke the fluidity and unpredictability of nature.

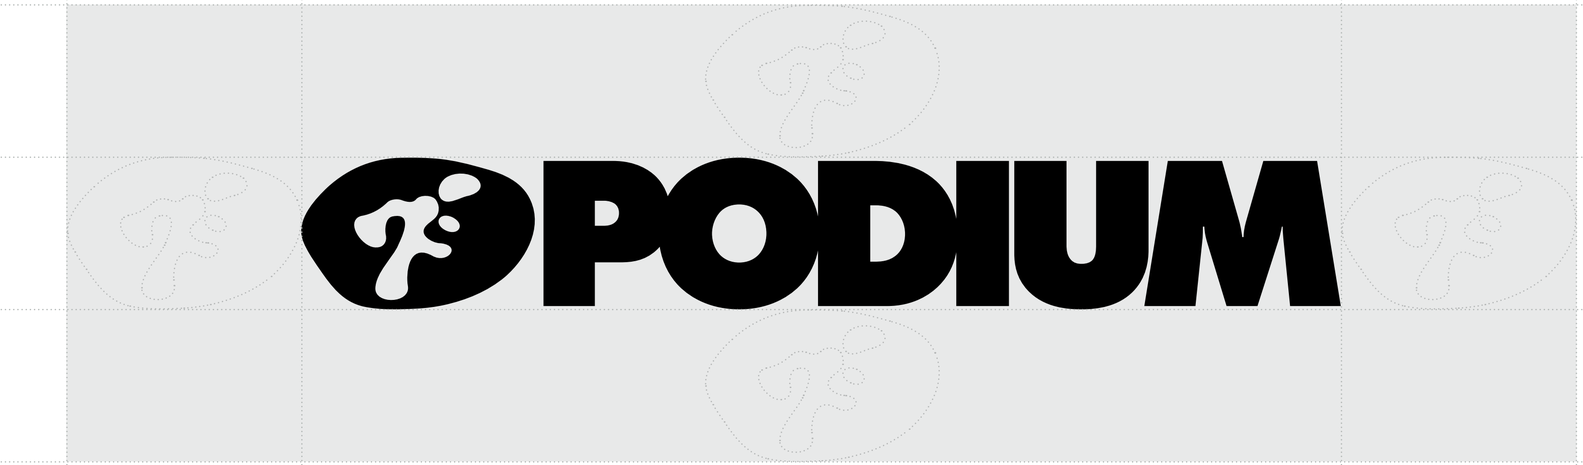

©2025 PODIUM GLOBAL RIGHTS RESERVED

The horizontal logotype combines the icon in a rock-shaped container with the timeless and grounding typeface Futura Extra Bold.

While it is encourage to experiment with the representation of brand the icon, this primary logotype is meant to be used as is with very little changes as it acts as a visual anchor for the rest of the identity.

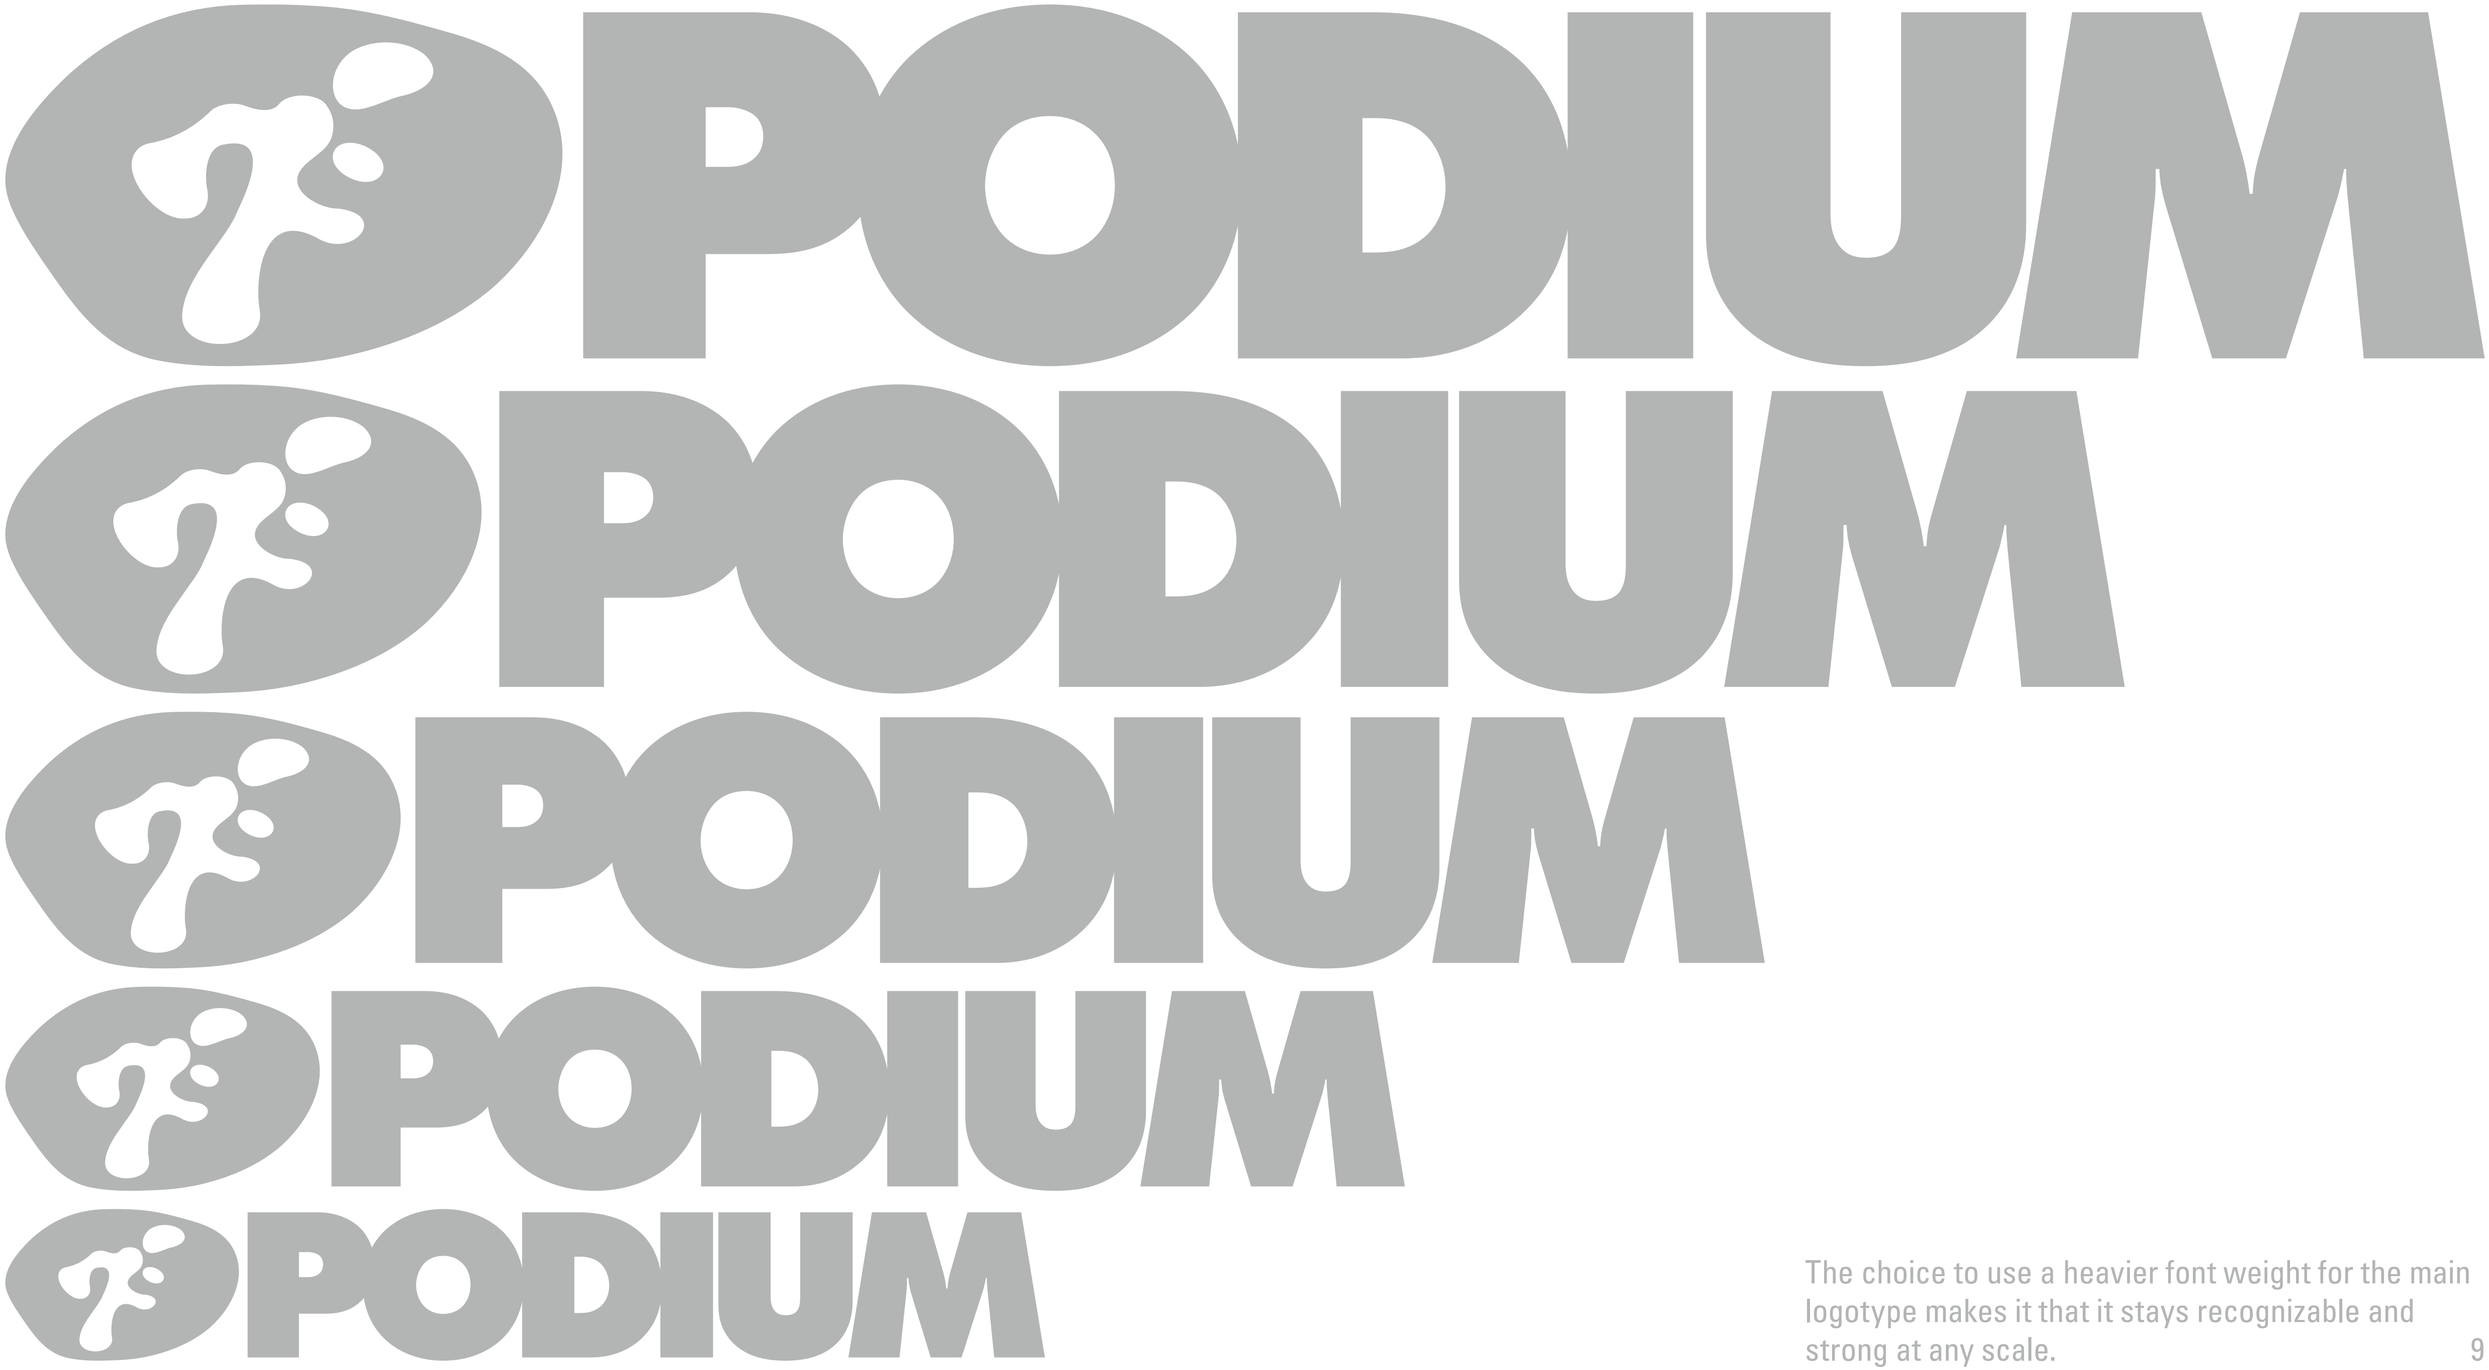

©2025 PODIUM GLOBAL RIGHTS RESERVED

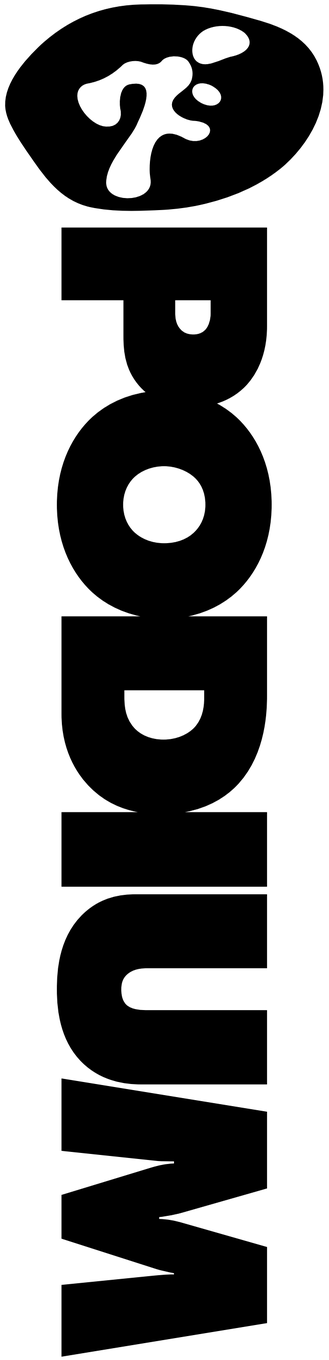

The icon can be used for calculating space allowance around the logo type in restricted spaces such as letterhead, tag, sticker, business card, etc.

©2025 PODIUM GLOBAL RIGHTS RESERVED

The choice to use a heavier font weight for the main logotype makes it that it stays recognizable and strong at any scale.

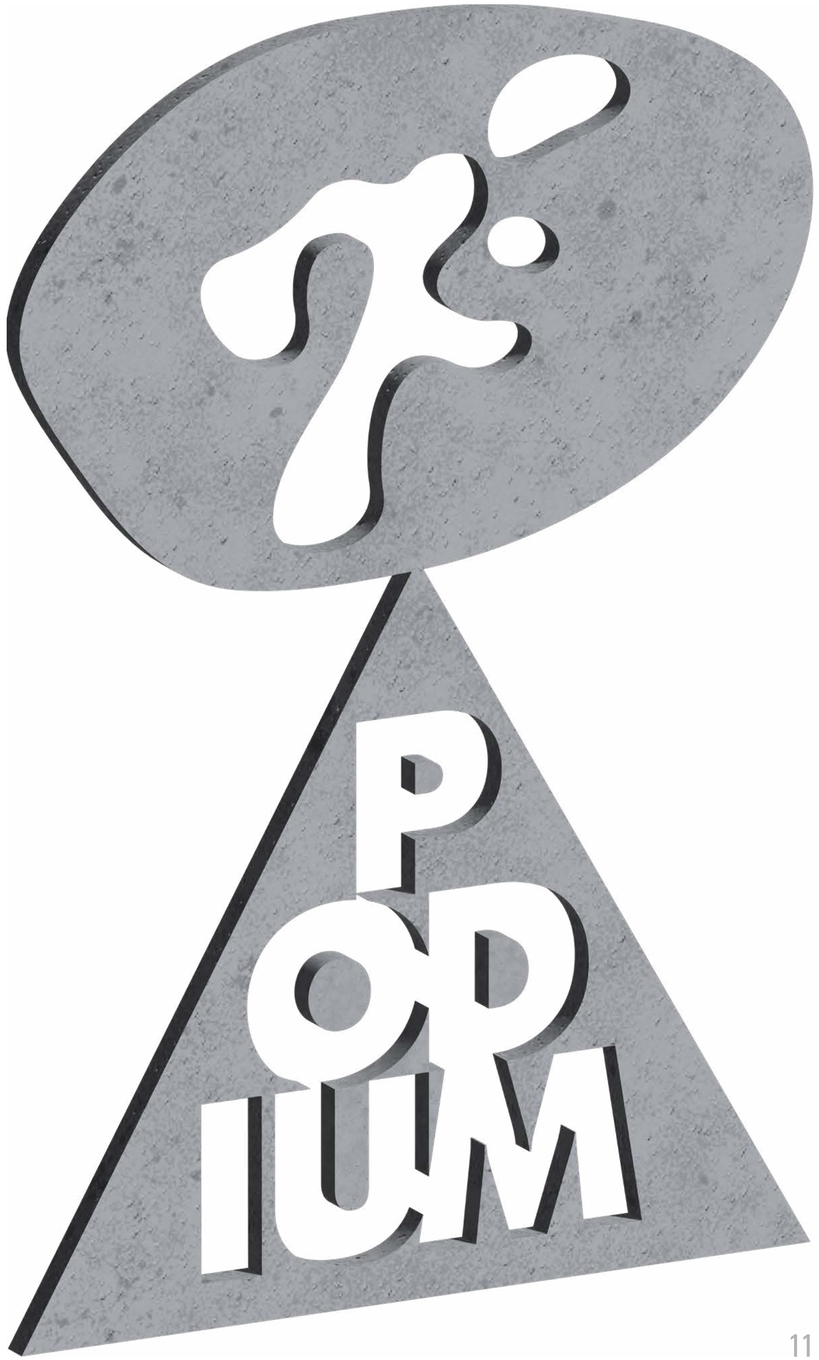

The vertical logotype — while having very few applications — is dynamic and provides a feeling of grandeur and stature, like a monolith.

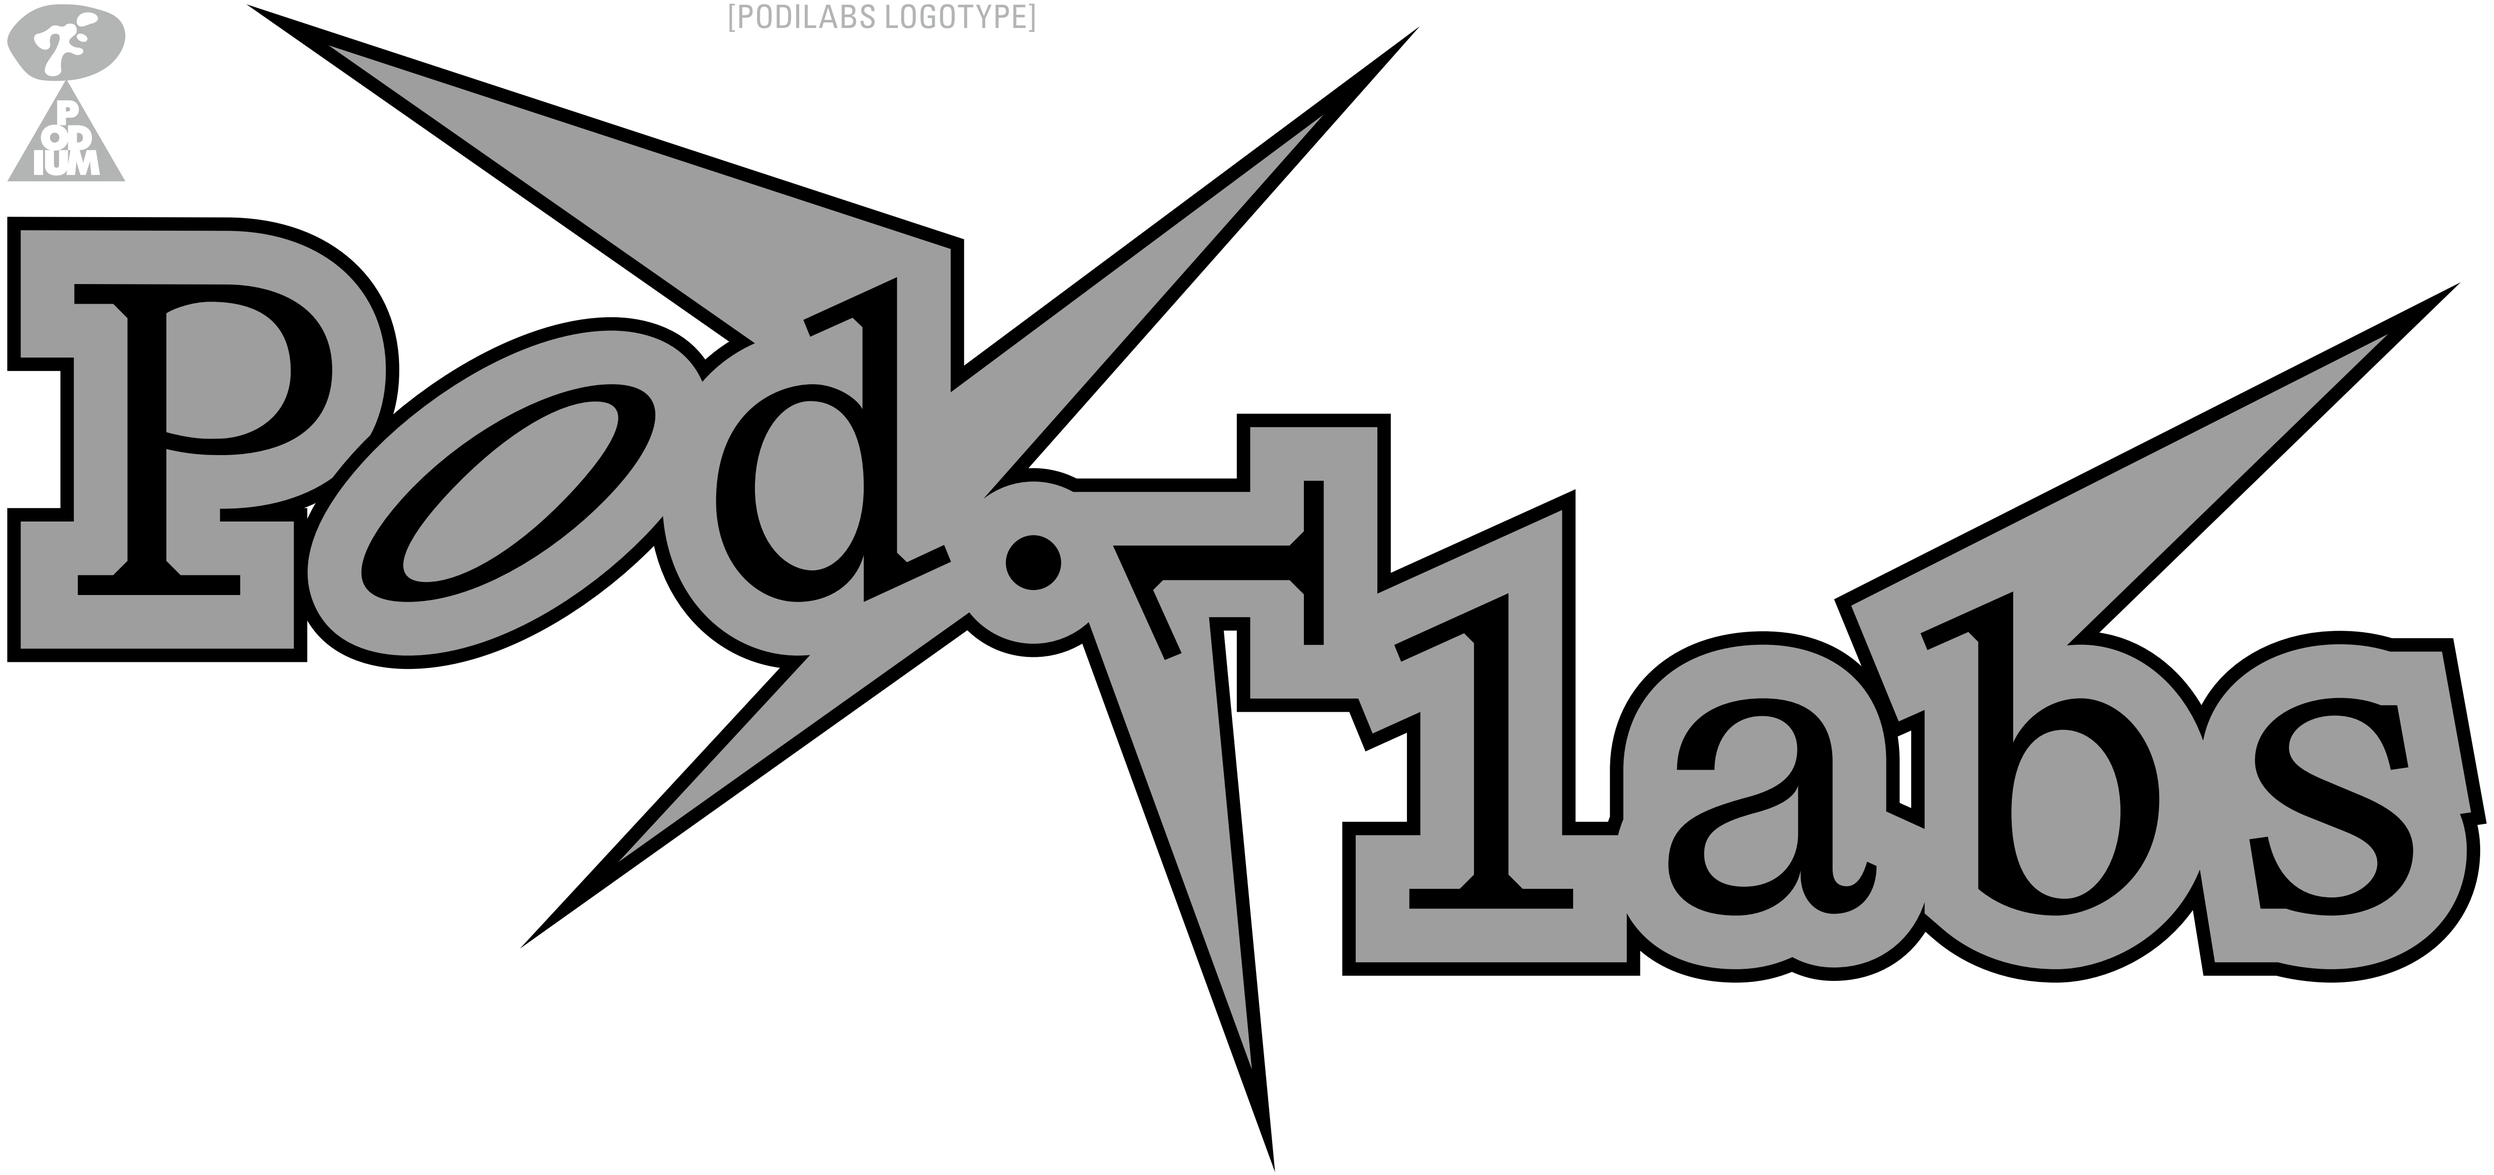

©2025 PODIUM GLOBAL RIGHTS RESERVED

The logomark, although seeming like another combination of the icon and primary typeface, offers tons of other application and content.

Drawn around the recurring idea of symbiosis and the relationship between technology and nature, the logomark is made of the stylized carved rock perfectly balanced on the podium-shaped triangle.

The Podilabs logotype introduces a completely different visual language as it represent the experimental side of the studio. The spikes and broken type offer movement and playfulness.

The colour palette draws inspiration from the cool and warm tones found in nature — rock formations, sand, aluminum, moss, mold, tree bark, mud, fog, river beds.

The colour palette can be in a variety of ways so long as rules of contrasts are respected. The neon green should be used as accent, and the black and gray would be the tones mostly used throughout the brand.

FUTURA EXTRA BOLD IS A TIMELESS, LOUD AND GROUNDING TYPEFACE.

IT IS MEANT TO BE USED FOR SHORT HEADERS, NAVIGATION TITLES AND QUOTES. THIS FONT IS ALWAYS USED IN ALL CAPS WITH A TIGHT KERNING.

Univers Condensed, originally designed by Adrian Frutiger in 1957, is another proof of timeless design and provides the brand visual with a feel of seriousness, science, legitimacy and legibility.

Univers Condensed and Univers Bold are both to be used for body copy, descriptions and captions.

Example: Futura Extra Bold is used in all-caps for the title, client and year of the project, and comes back for short quotes. Futura is also used for the site navigation so it stands out clearly. Univers Condensed is used for the rest of the case study.

Complimentary typefaces

PIXEL GRID LINE SKY NORM S

The typeface Pixel Grid Line Sky Norm S may be used in all caps as added visual texture in limited settings. As it is not the most legible font, it is recommended to be used for isolated words and short sentences only.

Complimentary typefaces

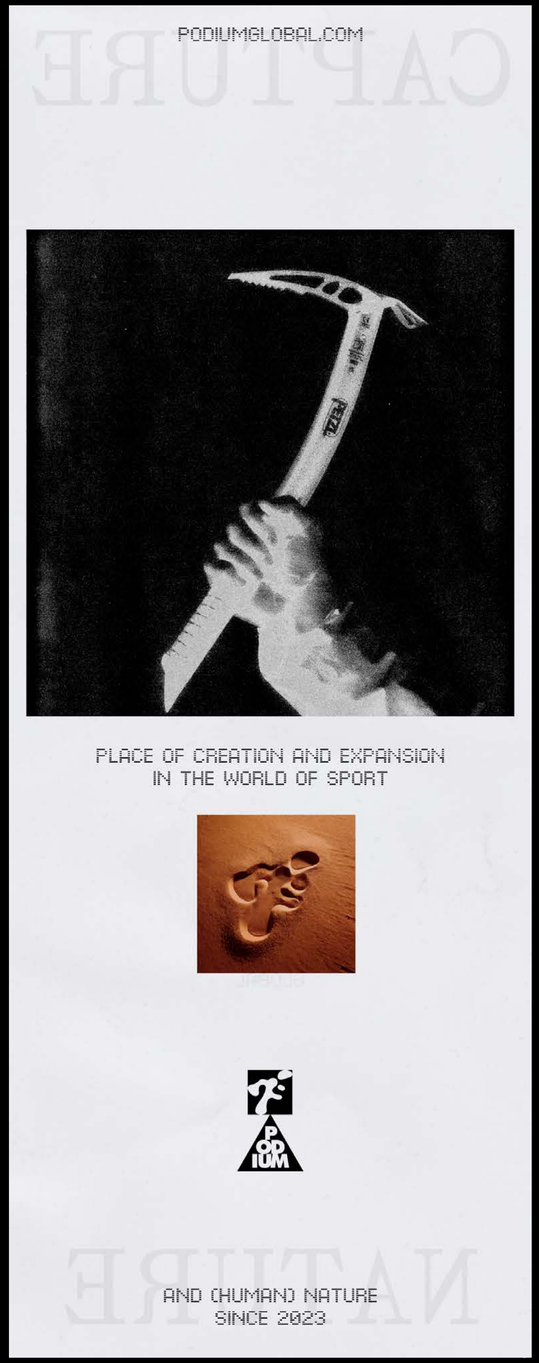

AFFAIRS MONO

The monospace typeface Affairs is also used limitedly to add visual complexity to the identity. Paired with Pixel Grid Line Sky Norm S, it created an interesting push-and-pull relationship between the two, furthering the symbiotic essence of the brand.

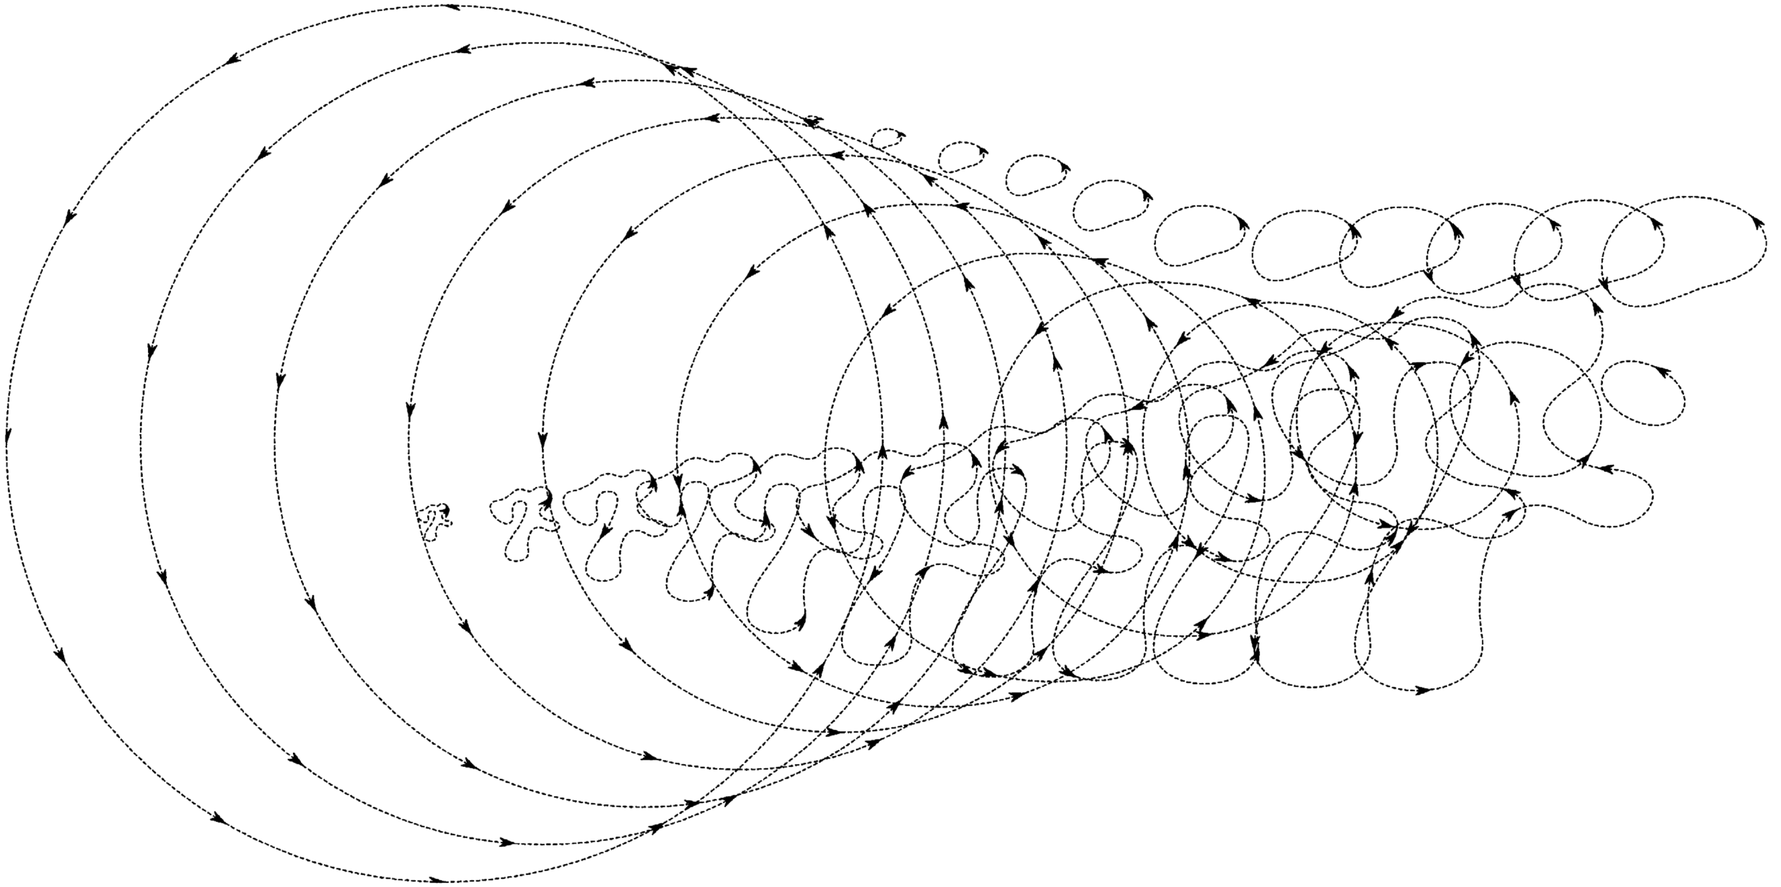

Affairs Mono in lower caps was used to build the Podilabs logotype.

These semi-abstract illustration are inspired by graphs found in encyclopedias and scientific magazines — topologies, magnetic fields, trajectories and energy systems. They elude to the ever-changing, always-moving and high-frequency nature of the brand. Those representations are meant to add visual texture to the brand graphics.

These illustrations can be drawn using the brand elements ,such as the icon, as starting point. There are made of dotted lines dressed with arrowheads at regular intervals.

There is no right or wrong way to create or use these graphic elements — as long as they draw from the same visual vocabulary.

Once again, this brandbook is a collection of design recommendations — a visual lexicon meant to inspire and suggest future brand collaborators.

There is no one way to use a font, logo or graphic elements throughout the brand identity, and you are encourage to experiment, layer, build on, break apart, evolve with the visual tools at your disposal.

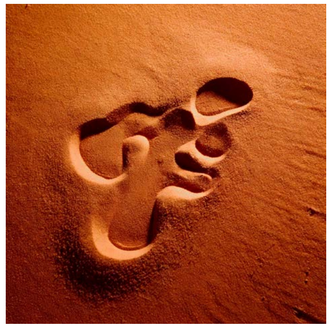

Adhering to the brand guidelines ensures a consistent representation of the studio's values and mission throughout platforms — but actively seeking out creatives that fully understand Podium and can push the visual identity further ensure a steady and vital evolution of the brand.
